SENATE MAY ADD TO HOUSING BILL POWER

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8—Senate Democrats today gave President Truman's bob-tailed housing bill a fighting chance to regain some of the important ground it lost in the house.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) hinted administration strategy might be a move to incorporate the legislation into a projected long-range housing program which already has bi-partisan backing in the senate.

The new homes issue shifted over to the senate when the house passed a much-modified version of the administration bill yesterday by a vote of 357 to 24. The final draft was minus two major provisions urged by Mr. Truman—price ceilings for existing homes and a $600,000,000 subsidy fund to boost production of building materials.

The fate of the ceilings proposal in the senate was uncertain, but there was mild encouragement for subsidies.

Barkley told reporters there had been no Democratic decision yet as to procedure on the whittled-down housing measure.

The senate bill is sponsored by Senators Wagner (D-NY), Ellender (D-La) and Taft (R-Ohio).

Its major provisions include a plan for FHA insurance up to 95 per cent on construction costs of low-priced homes; continued federal aid for low-rent public housing; aid to communities rebuilding "blighted" areas, and loans for construction of farm dwellings.

The house-passed Patman bill provides a $1,000,000,000 increase in authority for government agencies to insure home mortgages, price ceilings on new houses, and continued controls on use of building materials.

TRUMAN BID TO EXTEND PAULEY FIGHT CITED

Senators Say President Has Delayed Withdrawal Plans of Navy Nominee.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8—President Truman was credited by members of the senate naval committee today with having stepped in to delay a move for withdrawal of Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as undersecretary of the Navy.

Two senators who declined use of their names said there had been an exchange of letters between the President and Pauley. They said this upset an agreement for the California oil man to quit tomorrow his fight for confirmation.

Pauley himself, however, told the committee he intended to stay in the fight, asserting "no real man quits under fire—no honest man withdraws when he knows he is right." At the same time, Pauley lashed out at Harold L. Ickes, former secretary of interior, and other critics.

Delay Bid Reported

In the letter Mr. Truman was reported to have sent Pauley, the President was represented as having asked for a delay in any move to withdraw. Senators who said they were informed about the matter added they were told that Mr. Truman desired additional time to prepare a statement.

When asked about the nomination at his news conference today, President Truman reminded reporters that he had made four statements already to news conferences on that subject.

Senators in a position to know had said earlier that Pauley agreed yesterday to ask Mr. Truman to withdraw the nomination providing the naval committee made a statement praising his action and upholding his integrity.

In his statement to the committee today, Pauley asserted flatly that at no time had he ever suggested to Ickes that California oil men would contribute to the Democrats if Ickes would "lay off" the Tidelands oil suit.

This was in direct contradiction to the testimony of Ickes, former secretary of interior, that Pauley had told him in 1944 that $300,000 could be raised from oil men if a government suit to obtain title to Tidelands oil areas was not pressed.

Pauley made his statement to the senate naval committee, which is considering his nomination as undersecretary of the Navy, and linked with it a vigorous defense of his recard. He asserted his determination is "stronger than ever" to carry on the fight for confirmation.

Cites Beating

"For five weeks I have taken the most vicious punching a man can receive," the former Democratic national committee treasurer declared. "For five weeks these hearings have been a public forum for anyone who wanted to slug me.

"You have heard it all and now you're hearing Ed Pauley," he said. "No man quits under fire—no honest man withdraws when he knows he's right."

Asserting that the basic issue "is whether I have the proper qualifications to make a good and efficient undersecretary of the Navy," Pauley said:

"I am convinced I can serve my country well and efficiently. I know I have served her loyally, honestly and faithfully in the past."

Despite his statements, senators in a position to know said he will ask tomorrow for withdrawal of his nomination. Pauley has been told there is no hope for favorable consideration of the appointment in the committee or in the senate itself.

What Ickes Said

Ickes, who resigned in a huff from the cabinet as an outgrowth of the controversy over the Pauley nomination, had testified Pauley offered "the rawest proposition ever made to me" during a conversation Sept. 6, 1944 in Ickes' office. This, Ickes said, was the suggestion that Pauley

Cardinal's Condition Reported as Not Good

By The Associated Press

DUBLIN, March 8—John Cardinal Glennon has fallen into a semi-comatose state and "anything can be expected," his secretary, Monsignor John P. Cody, said tonight.

Msgr. Cody, chancellor of the St. Louis diocese, said the cardinal's condition "is not so good this evening as earlier" in the day when it was announced he had developed uremia and exhibited mental confusion.

"His condition is not satisfactory," Cody said. "There is nothing urgent so far as we can see but anything can be expected."

Russians Okay Plan To Bring Franco to UNO

French Say Soviets Accept Plan for Hearing, But U. S. Due To Oppose It.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 8—The foreign office said today Russia has replied favorably to a French proposal to take the Spanish question before the United Nations Security Council.

Diplomatic officials in Washington said it was virtually certain the United States would oppose the French plan, contending that the Franco regime, whatever else it might be, is not a threat to international peace and security and hence not a proper subject for the security council.

British Also Reply

The British have replied to France, but the answer has not been published. Statements by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and other British officials indicated Great Britain would decline to join France in the undertaking for substantially the same reasons advanced in Washington.

GOERING OPENS FIGHT TO LIVE

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, March 8—Luftwaffe Gen. Karl Bodenschatz, one-time aide to Adolf Hitler, opened Hermann Goering's legal fight for life before the international military tribunal today with testimony that the former No. 2 Nazi had argued for peace from the Munich crisis to the eve of the Soviet invasion.

Bodenschatz—Goering's go-between with Hitler—said Goering had argued against the invasion of Russia on the ground it violated the principles laid down in "Mein Kampf" against a two-front war.

Gen. Bodenschatz told of a meeting Goering held on German soil near the Danish border in August, 1939, with "six or eight Englishmen in the English government" at which he said he favored survival of the British empire, pledged his influence to keep the peace and asked his foreign listeners to do the same in London.

He told the tribunal that Goering emerged from the Munich conference room in 1938 crying happily "that is peace."

On cross-examination by Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief prosecutor for the United States, there was audible laughter in the court as Bodenschatz denied that he knew of any orders to increase the strength of the Luftwaffe after Munich.

TRUMAN AIRS CONFIDENCE IN FUTURE OF UNO

Vows It Won't Be Allowed To Fail; Believes Russia Will "Go Along."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8—President Truman vigorously asserted at his news conference today that the United Nations Organization would not be allowed to collapse, and expressed confidence that Soviet Russia will go along with the organization's work.

The President's comment was prompted by questions about what might happen if Russia declines to comply with the United States request for the immediate withdrawal of Soviet troops from Iran.

That situation, Mr. Truman said, will be handled when it comes up.

A reporter then suggested that a Russian refusal might mean a collapse of the world peace agency.

Disagrees Strongly

The President disagreed strongly, asserting that the UNO would not be allowed to collapse.

"Even if Russia went down a one-way street?" a reporter asked.

The President replied he did not believe Russia was going down a one-way street.

Official Washington anxiously awaited Moscow's reply to this country's request for immediate withdrawal of Russian troops from Iran.

Some officials believe that reply may go far toward determining whether American-Russian relations improve or continue to worsen. There was no indication when it would arrive from Moscow.

Nikolai V. Novikov, charge d'affaires of the Russian embassy, made his first diplomatic call in months on Secretary of State Byrnes yesterday. Officials said later, however, that he did not discuss either of the two United States notes sent to Moscow Tuesday.

To Make Note Public

It was believed likely that the state department would make public the second of those notes sometime today. It concerns reported Soviet withdrawals of industrial equipment from Manchuria and proposals for Soviet-Chinese operation of Manchurian industries.

The note released last night said the Soviet action was contrary to the

The Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill declaration in Tehran Dec. 1, 1943, in which the three governments pledged "maintenance of the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran."

Grand Ave. Child's Life Saved by Removal of Nail from Lung

Columbus Surgeon Uses Instrument of Own Invention for Operation on Year-and-Half Old Stanley Flesher.

It was an anxious time for relatives, and a painful one for little Stanley Flesher of Marion, after he swallowed a nail at his home at 135 North Grand avenue a few days ago. Now, year-and-a-half old Stanley is at home, "well on his way to recovery." The nail was removed Tuesday from his lung in University hospital, Columbus, where a physician commented that "It is a miracle that he lived." It had caused a pneumonia condition.

A particularly harrowing time it was for his father, Donald Flesher, for on top of worry about Stanley, he had to keep the news from Stanley's mother—she being in Marion City hospital with a new little brother for Stanley, and hardly able to stand a shock knowing of Stanley's plight might cause. But now that Stanley is safe, she knows. Mr. Flesher told her the whole story Wednesday afternoon, and relief is sweet for not only Mr. and Mrs. Flesher but for their three other children, and for Stanley's grandparents, too.

How It Probably Happened

How the child got hold of the nail is not known, except that it may have been from a toy. It was evidently two or three weeks ago that he had put the object in his mouth, his physician here said, and, with his breathing, it had slipped down into his right bronchial tube.

The nail was found in the lung just below the lower right section of the "windpipe." Apparently it was a few days after the nail had lodged that the child developed simple pneumonia. His physician treated him with penicillin and sulfa drugs, but the condition recurred. Under X-ray at the physician's office, the cause of the trouble was discovered, and the child admitted to the hospital here Saturday. Later, he was removed to the Columbus hospital where a physician, a specialist in diseases of eyes, ears, nose and throat, was called upon to care for the case.

Special Instrument Used

A special instrument of that physician's own invention was used to remove the offending object.

Grandparents of the little patient, Mr. and Mrs. George Edler of Fies avenue, took him to Columbus for the operation, while Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kerr of Johns street, stepfather and mother of Mr. Flesher, cared for the three other children. Also interested in the little boy's welfare was his grandfather, Floyd Flesher of West Center street. The Fleshers' three other children are [illegible] Lee, 7, the eldest, Stephen and Allen. The new baby, born Saturday, has been named [illegible].

Mrs. Flesher is still in the hospital here. Stanley was brought home from Columbus [illegible]day.

Idle in labor disputes total 775,000, lowest in more than a month

Major developments:

Automotive—Senate investigation of 108-day General Motors strikes as well as causes of labor disputes proposed as Labor Secretary Schwellenbach hints some sort of new government action toward settling long and costly walkout by 175,000 GM production workers; federal seizure not planned as mediator returns to Detroit for further negotiating sessions.

Railroads—President Truman names fact-finding board to study threatened nationwide railroad strike, delaying walkout of nearly 300,000 workers for from 30 to 60 days; Brotherhood president says action will defer strike long enough to give board time allotted by Railway Labor act.

Coal—Bituminous coal operators say ruling by NLRB that supervisory employes are entitled to full union membership indicates prolonged battle with John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, in contract negotiations opening Tuesday.

TRUMAN SIDESTEPS CHURCHILL PROPOSAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8—President Truman declined to express his views today on Winston Churchill's proposal for a virtual Anglo-American military alliance to preserve the peace.

The President told his news conference that the former British prime minister was indulging in his right of free speech at Fulton, Mo., Tuesday, when Churchill proposed joint use of British and American bases, combined training programs and extension of the U. S.-Canadian defense agreement to the other British commonwealths.

Mr. Truman said Mr. Churchill was a guest in this country, and that if he himself decided to go to Great Britain to make a speech, he would feel just as free to express his own personal views.

The President also told the newsmen:

1. That the combined Anglo-American chiefs of staff will continue to function until the war emergency has been declared at an end. Whether it will continue to function afterwards, he said, is a matter that will be handled when the war emergency is over.

2. He knows of no plans in the immediate future for another "Big Three" meeting, but, if one is held it should be in the United States.

3. That General George C. Marshall, special ambassador to China, will return to the United States for consultations with him; the former chief of staff then will return to Chungking as special envoy.

4. That John Winant, ambassador to London, is back in the United States to make a report. He couldn't say whether Winant would continue at the London post until he has talked with him.

5. That he hopes to visit the

REPORTS MADE FOR RED CROSS

First Returns in County Drive Total Nearly Half of Quota.

Campaign Goal	$38,300.00
First report	$16,942.68
To be raised	$21,357.32

Volunteers workers in the 1946 Red Cross fund campaign were in sight of the half-way mark when reports of the various divisions were totaled at the first drive meeting last night in campaign headquarters at 193 East Center street. Chairmen of the various divisions reported $16,942.68 turned in by the approximately 500 workers in the city and county. Marion county's quota of the one-hundred million dollar national fund is $38,300.

Robert T. Mason, chapter chairman, presided for the meeting which included a broadcast over WMRN. The second report meeting will be held next Tuesday at 7 p. m. at which time Clarence Shockney, campaign chairman, will preside.

Reports in the women's division, which has the house-to-house canvass, showed that Precincts A and B in Ward 1 and Precinct C-South, Ward 4, topped their quotas. Precinct A, headed by Mrs. T. E. Andrews, with a quota of $150, turned in $251.50 and Precinct B headed by Mrs. B. R. Wingett, topped a quota of $225 with $233.25. In Ward 4 Mrs. H. S. Jacoby's workers in C-South, with a quota of $130, went over the top with $163.50. The total turned in by women's division was $2,261.80.

In the industries division companies have contributed $3,602.25 and employes $4,061.83; advanced gifts total is $2,590; clubs and organizations $432.50; special groups $357; business district $2,547.60 and rural $1,069.70.

Leaders in the campaign were highly pleased with the reports given last night and expressed confidence that the quota will be met in a short time. Sharing their enthusiasm are the workers, who report generous response from the volunteer contributors.

Kenton 2-Year-Old Wants To See Pigs, Sets Off 'Man Hunt'

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., March 8—"Looking for piggies" was the only statement that Ronald Scott, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scott of Kenton, had to make after being located almost a mile from his home in a corn field yesterday at 6 p. m. after a four-hour search involving police, neighbors, Boy Scouts, school pupils, a mobile radio unit and even an airplane.

A group of Boy Scouts located the missing boy on the Pickering farm west of Kenton nonchalantly observing some hogs in a corn field.

Young Ronnie was returned to his mother and father in a muddy but happy condition. He was located, as darkness together with rain was descending.

Chief of Police Clarence Sheldon is still pondering how the two-year-old got a mile away from home, crossing at least three hog-tight fences.

ACTION DELAYS STRIKE THREAT 30 TO 60 DAYS

Truman Refuses To Take Hand in GM Strike; Airs Views on Wage Boosts.

By The Associated Press

President Truman named a three-man fact-finding board today in the dispute threatening a nationwide railroad strike.

He appointed Judge Leif Erickson of the Montana supreme court, Frank M. Swacker, New York lawyer, and Gordon S. Watkins of the economics department of the University of California, to inquire into the grievances of two railroad brotherhoods.

The naming of the board automatically under custom will defer for 30 to 60 days a progressive walk-out which the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Railroad Trainmen had scheduled to start Monday.

Mr. Truman announced the appointment of the board at a news conference.

Cites Other Settlements

He took the occasion also to note that wage questions in the rubber and telephone industries had been settled, strictly on a collective bargaining basis and in a manner satisfactory to both sides.

This, Mr. Truman commented, was done without any ballyhoo.

Furthermore, the President said, there have been hundreds of such settlements which have received no notice, settlements by the CIO, AFL and independent unions.

The President said flatly he would not intervene in the General Motors strike, as suggested by Detroit city officials.

In reply to another question, he said he always had been of the opinion a settlement should be reached on the basis of a 19½-cents an hour wage increase proposed by a fact-finding board.

Mr. Truman reaffirmed a White House announcement that the 18½ cents an hour pay raise settlement for basic steel did not necessarily set the pattern for the entire industry.

Hints GM Action

With no indication of an early settlement of the long and costly General Motors dispute, Labor Secretary Schwellenbach hinted some sort of new government action toward ending the 108-day strike.

At the same time, proposals for a full senate investigation into causes of labor disputes, including the GM walkout of 175,000 CIO production workers, appeared headed for a senate vote.

Gets Full Report

Schwellenbach was given a full report of the negotiations in Detroit between General Motors and the CIO United Auto Workers by Federal Mediator James F. Dewey.

Schwellenbach said federal seizure was not planned. Dewey returned to Detroit, where negotiations were in an apparent deadlock, and planned to resume sessions with the principals.

A resolution for senate investigation into the causes of labor disputes, was introduced by five senators, and sent to the labor committee. A subcommittee will start hearings soon.

Announcement was made in Cleveland of a "rank and file" movement within the railroad brotherhoods. At the same time, A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, said Mr. Truman's appointment of a fact-finding panel would defer the impending walkout of the 215,000 members of his union and the 78,000 locomotive engineers long enough to "give the board the time allotted by the law."

Naming the panel, delays any strikes from 30 to 60 days while the board members study the issues—demands for wage increases averaging 25 per cent and 45 changes in working rules.

Writer Forms Group

Wallington Boe, a writer who last week was dismissed by the BRT president for what he termed disloyalty and insubordination, announced formation of the national rank and file association for "democratic and intelligent representation" of the workers.

Heads of the brotherhoods said there was a "communist flavor" about a new "rank and file" movement within the brotherhoods.

"This movement no doubt has the flavor of the Communists, since it demands that any settlements may be submitted to the rank and file," Whitney commented.

A ruling by the National Labor Relations board that supervisory employes are free to join a union for collective bargaining purposes, promised to bring repercussions and bituminous coal operators said it indicated a prolonged battle

The Rev L. K. Jackson of Gary, Ind., a member of the National Baptist Convention, declared "the colored people of the earth are eternally grateful for the far-sighted and statesmanlike Christian courage which has permeated this entire meeting."

"But when we hear pronouncements such as those made here we see new reason for hope and new reason for our faith in the church.

"We shall return to our people with renewed hope and with the torch of our faith burning brighter."

Dr May described the segregation statement as "the most far-reaching document on the subject by any church body in this country."

5 OHIO PASTORS HIT CHURCH ATOM VIEWS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 8 — Five Columbus clergymen declared last night that the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America was "unAmerican in its viewpoints and sympathies."

The ministers were especially aroused by a council committee report deploring the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki as "morally indefensible."

The ministers, who said they were members of the American Council of Christian Churches, declared.

"The press releases of the Federal Council constitute no less than profound disrespect to our soldier and sailor dead, and they amount to open insult to the thousands of patriotic young men who fought for the preservation of our liberties."

Signers of the statement were Reverend C. C. Clawson of the Memorial Baptist church; H. C. Stigers of Bible Presbyterian church; Ernest Finkenbiner of Central Baptist church; William E. Ashbrook of Calvary Bible church, Theodore B. Hax of Emmanuel Lutheran church.

The clergymen particularly were critical of a report on atomic warfare drawn up by a council commission which deplored the "morally indefensible" atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

"It is significant," the five asserted, "that the utterances (in the atomic energy report) were prepared by a committee largely loaded with Federal Council wheelhorses from such centers of pacifism and radicalism as Yale Divinity school, Union Theological seminary and Chicago Theological seminary."

declared that the United States, Britain and France today are inciting another civil war in Spain.

"These governments which so generously express their hope that Spain may not again be subjected to the horrors of civil war implicitly incite us to civil strife by their note which craftily provokes this warfare by deceptions for which there is no place in Spain," the radio, quoting the Madrid newspaper ABC, said last night.

"It is not we, but a million dead * * * who raise an impassable barrier against the handing over of power to the Judases and Cains whose only methods are treason and slander."

Attacks Russia

The note referred to was a tri-power condemnation of the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, who yesterday attacked Russia in an impromptu speech in Madrid and commented that "the causes which had been reasons of the civil war must disappear for always."

Last night's broadcast said the three nations were "doing exactly the contrary of what they proclaim is their purpose" in the note, which the radio commented contained two points "that have filled the measure of our stupor"—an assertion that the Allied powers had no intention of interfering in Spain's internal affairs and the hope that there would not be another civil war.

could obtain Democratic contributions from the oil men providing the Tidelands suit was dropped.

Pauley said in his statement today Ickes was "mistaken" if he thought Pauley—then Democratic treasurer — was soliciting any contingent contributions.

The $300,000 figure, the witness said, was the quota which had been set for the District of Columbia and he contended he was discussing with Ickes.

As a matter of fact, Pauley said that California oil men actually had contributed only $13,400 to President Roosevelt's fourth term campaign.

Voteless Women of Switzerland Center on Homes

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

BERN, SWITZERLAND, March 8—You certainly learn a lot about the feminine mind by a visit to Switzerland.

This country doesn't allow women to vote, but when you investigate the question you encounter the strange circumstances that the ladies in general don't appear to be over-anxious for suffrage in political affairs, although most of them would like a hand in settling social problems.

DewittMackenzie

Many of the real crusaders for complete voting rights are among the elderly women, who were active in the days when the military suffragettes were a world phenomenon. Curiously enough, the younger generation, broadly speaking, would be content with partial suffrage, at least for the present.

The average Swiss woman is essentially a housewife and has the old fashioned notion that the woman's place is in the home, studying the welfare of the family. Also Swiss politics are complicated and demand more of the voters' time than most housewives feel they can spare from their home duties.

Is Duty Not a Right

There are few countries where citizens participate so intimately in the affairs of state as here in little Switzerland. The Swiss look on this participation not as a "right" but as a "duty," with the result that he is constantly engaged in settling the problems of his community or the country as a whole.

To illustrate take the city of Bern, whose government is 800 years old. Most local laws go directly to the voters, who are called up about once a month to deal with them. In some places the citizens even elect the school teachers by direct vote.

The Geneva canton council a few years ago passed a law abolishing taxes for people of the lower and middle classes and putting the whole burden on the rich. In Geneva all tax measures must be submitted to the voters as a whole and in this case they turned down the law as being unfair even though the majority would benefit by it.

Three Alpine cantons still have the old form of democracy which they have practiced for over 600 years. All the peasants get together in April with a lot of pageantry and, after debate, vote on the business of the canton. They stand in a big circle—maybe 5,000 or 6,000 men—and vote by a show of hands. If the presiding official can't determine the vote in this way the circle separates into two opposing bodies, and there is a count of noses. Everybody turns out for this town meeting that is all the voters, but the chances are that somebody has to stay home—and that will be mother.

Widespread Custom

This intimate association of the citizen with local affairs extends to the national government. The federal assembly can pass a law, but if 30,000 voters ask for a plebiscite they can have it. If 50,000 people want a law, there must be a plebiscite, and so it goes.

The average woman doesn't feel that she has time to go to innumerable communal meetings and debate political issues, or yet stand in circles and vote. However, she would like to vote for the teachers who are to instruct her children, and to vote for anythings else relating directly to the welfare of the family. Beyond that the Swiss woman is a home body.

Most of the participants, including the Russians as last minute starters in the role of observers, were scheduled to arrive today.

CURRIER ON STAND AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, March 8—George T. Currier was on the witness stand today testifying in his trial in the Wyandot County common pleas court.

During the questioning by defense attorneys Currier related how he had agreed to purchase stock in the Fidelity Building, Loan and Savings Co. from Carey residents at 66 2/3 per cent of its value. The stock, he maintained, was not worth value because of the financial conditions and the location of the company.

Late this afternoon the state's attorney's are expected to cross-examine Currier. State's attorneys maintain that in attempting to purchase the stock, Currier had represented it at less than its true value. He was indicted by the Wyandot county grand jury on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Also taking the witness stand for the defense today was Thomas A. Reber, president of the First National Bank of Upper Sandusky.

The case is expected to continue into next week.

with John L. Lewis in coming contract negotiations.

By past interpretations of the act, supervisors have been considered a part of management, not to be included in a production workers' union. Last October Lewis' United Mine Workers staged a brief strike over the issue but a showdown was delayed until the next contract negotiations, which open in Washington next Tuesday.

Elsewhere along the labor front, disputes continued to keep idle some 775,000 workers, the lowest total in more than a month.

Principles of the United Nations.

The note expressed the "earnest hope" that Russia would "do its part, by withdrawing immediately all Soviet forces from the territory of Iran, to promote the international confidence which is so necessary for peaceful progress among the people of all nations."

Encouraging Developments

Meanwhile, optimists pointed but two encouraging developments yesterday. There were:

1. Russia's belated decision to send a delegation to the international monetary conference, which opens today.

2. The announcement that the United States, Russia and Britain had agreed on a plan for dividing up Germany's remaining merchant ships, while permitting the Reich to keep 200,000 gross tons of shipping—about one-seventh of the total.

Russians Deny Stripping Korea

By The Associated Press

SEOUL, March 8 — Russians deny any stripping of Japanese industrial properties from Korea, Lt Gen John R. Hodge reported today in a statement which also disclosed the basic points on which Soviet-American efforts to unify the currently divided country had split.

The conference agreed to re-establish communications and transport, and to permit limited travel between the Russian-held north and American-held south. The basic clash, Hodge stated, came when Americans urged utmost efforts to eliminate all hardships created by the artificial revision of Korea. The Russians would listen only to a limited number of the most urgent problems.

Russians Get First Churchill Report

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 8 — Soviet newspapers published today a Tass dispatch from New York giving the Russian people their first accounts of Winston Churchill's speech Tuesday at Fulton, Mo., at which the former British prime minister called for British-American cooperation.

Tass said Churchill delivered the speech "in an extremely aggressive tone."

Tass said the speech had met no approval in U. S. congressional circles and quoted Senators Pepper (D-Fla), Johnson (D-Colo), Tydings (D-Md), Brewster (R-Maine) and Aiken (R-Vt) as opposing the alliance.

It added that the speech got a lukewarm reception in Britain.

TIMKEN UNION WILL FIGHT COURT ORDER

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 8—Striking CIO steelworkers prepared today to fight a common pleas court injunction limiting them to seven pickets at each of the five gates of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant here.

"Naturally, the union will fight any action such as this in the courts," said Howard N. Porter, district director of the union.

The temporary restraining order, issued yesterday by Judge Charles A. Leach, opened the way to resumption of partial production at the strikebound plant by ordering the pickets to allow workers to enter the plant.

The injunction was requested by the company after union pickets successfully repulsed a 50-man back-to-work movement last Wednesday. The plant employs 4,600 workers normally.

PENNSYLVANIA COURT RULES AGAINST COERCION

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, March 8—Picketing is legal when it only attempts "to persuade workers to join" a strike and "to urge the public not to patronize the employers," the Pennsylvania supreme court has ruled.

"When a picket line becomes a picket fence," Chief Justice George W. Maxey asserted yesterday, "it is time for the government to act. Collective coercion is not a legitimate (part) of collective bargaining."

"The forceable seizure (by mass picketing) of an employer's property," the jurist wrote in amending a previous court opinion banning mass picketing, "is the very essence of communism."

The court opinion had upheld an injunction against mass picketing at the Pittsburgh Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co. plant during the recent nationwide steel strike.

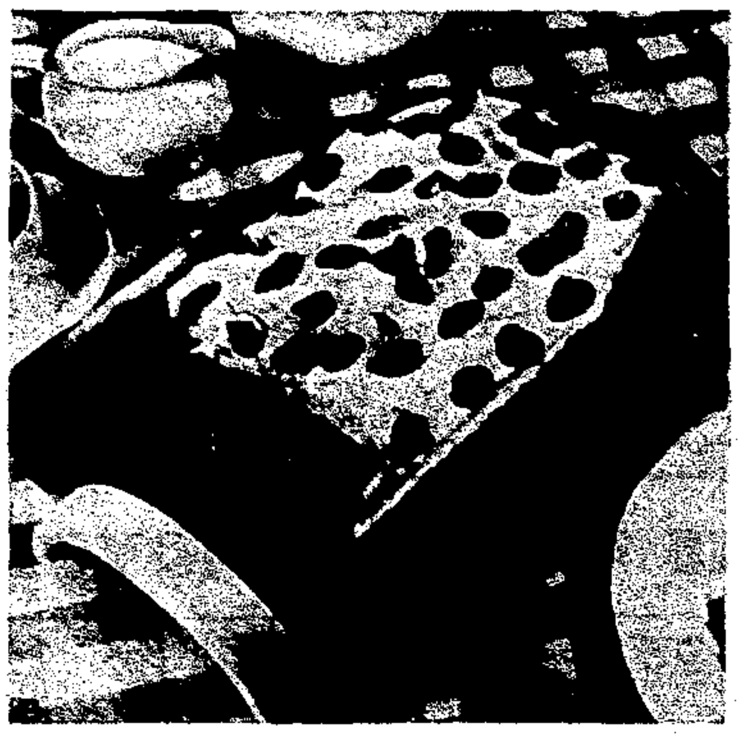
Cakes Without Sugar



QUICK SPICE CAKE....Needs no sugar....

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

We've made some of the best cakes we've ever eaten lately—without one speck of sugar! This remarkable end has been achieved by the use of a new corn syrup, possessing high sweetness and low viscosity. The product is widely available and we hope you'll try some of the cakes we've made with such success.

Quick Spice Cake

2½ cups sifted cake flour, 2¼ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ cup shortening, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine flour, baking powder, salt, cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon. Put shortening in bowl and add dry ingredients—eggs, lemon rind, syrup and half the milk. Beat one minute, add rest of milk and vanilla, and beat one more minute. Bake in 8-inch greased pans, at 375 degrees for 30 minutes.

Devil's Food Cake

1-3 cup milk, 1-3 cup shortening, ½ cup sweet corn syrup, ½ cup sifted cake flour, 1 cup sugar, 1¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ cup breakfast cocoa, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 whole eggs, 2-3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Measure milk, shortening and syrup into the mixing bowl. Measuring the syrup into the same cup you used for the shortening facilitates removal of the syrup from the cup. Place the sifted flour and other dry ingredients in sifter and sift into mixing bowl. Mix for 2 minutes, or 200 strokes by hand. Stir the eggs, milk and vanilla together and add in two or three parts to the first mixture, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Beat 2 minutes or 200 strokes.

Pour into two greased, lightly floured 8- or 9-inch-layer pans and bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Remove the cakes from the pans about a minute after removing from oven.

Sugarless Icing

1½ cups white corn syrup, 2 egg whites.

Boil syrup until it spins a thread (240 degrees). Beat whites of eggs until stiff, meanwhile adding boiled syrup. Add flavoring to taste. Beat till cool, spread on cake.

Claridon Underdogs Set to Give Magnetic "Good Fight" Tomorrow Night

By JIM DARBY

Claridon, Marion county's sole surviving representative in tournament basketball, will have the battle of the season on its hands tomorrow night as it tackles Magnetic Springs in the upper bracket finals of the Westerville class B district tournament at 7:30.

In the lower bracket finals Worthington and Grove City, Franklin county champion and runnerup, are fighting it out again at 8:30. At Delaware class A semi-finals match Columbus North and Columbus Central at 7:30 and Newark against Bexley at 9. Lima South and Wapakoneta tangle at 7:30 in the first class A semi-final at Kenton while Galion tackles Findlay at 8:45.

Tuesday night in the semi-finals Magnetic Springs knocked the Irish from St. Mary out of the tournament 32 to 27 while Claridon was winning its place in the finals by a narrow 31 to 30 squeak over Cardington.

Both teams have excellent records, Claridon having won 22 out of 24 games and Magnetic taking 19 out of 20. However, one of Claridon's two season defeats was a 26 to 27 whipping from Magnetic and the other a 36 to 34 setback administered by St. Mary.

Scores Favor Magnetic

For those who like to brood over comparative scores, Magnetic hung a 60 to 16 haymaker on Pleasant early in the season. The county league leaders took Pleasant to the cleaners twice but by a 44 to 41 score in the last game of the season and by a more respectable mark of 44 to 34 in the county tournament finals.

Magnetic Springs has whipped everything in sight this season with the exception of Ostrander which pulled a one point victory out of the bag. In the tournament they have knocked out Plain City 44 to 22, Columbus Rosary 28 to 23 and St. Mary 32 to 27. Claridon has played Hairbreath Harry basketball all through this tournament, skimming by Gambier 30 to 28, Lancaster St. Mary 31 to 29 and Cardington 30 to 31.

Coach A. B. Augenstein of Claridon is taking a strictly pessimistic view of the whole thing. The best he will do is promise a "good fight." He pointed out that the Claridon quintet has been off its stride this tournament so far and opines that if they have a hot night Saturday the fight will be better than otherwise.

For Claridon fans it may be encouraging to note that the last time Coach Augenstein played the role of gloomy prophet was just before the Claridon-LaRue county tournament semi-finals. Claridon won that game handily.

Coach Howard Hosler of Magnetic Springs talks in a more orthodox vein. He thinks the fracas is a 50-50 affair. He naturally believes his team will add to its 37 wins out of 40 games in the last two years but remembers that he's been in district finals before only to slip in the important pinches.

Names No Single Star

He declines to name any of his players as a one-man-team boy of the Jim Ruth stripe so that a personalized battle with the Claridon star doesn't seem to be in the offing—unless it's a Ruth-against-the-world scrap.

Claridon might put themselves on guard against the "sleeper under the basket" trick which licked St. Mary Tuesday night. Magnetic pulled this chestnut successfully four times against the Irish.

Seven Titles Wide Open as Golden Gloves Tournament Draws Near

Only One Champ to Defend; Final Meeting Set Tonight

Twenty-two Bouts Booked at Armory in Monday Night Opening Rounds.

Only one title—welterweight, held by Jack Draper of Marion—will be defended in the Golden Gloves AAU district tournament which begins Monday at 8 p. m. The other seven titles are open because the title holder either is not entered in this year's tournament or has moved into another weight classification. They are fly, feather, bantam, light, middle, light-heavy and heavyweight classes.

Since this bout is being conducted under AAU rules, the paperweight or novice division will feature non-title fights. Harold Waits of Marion won, in that weight last year.

Two other Marion boys, Jim Detrick and Dorman Knapp are among the former champions fighting again this year.

Jack Draper was last year's winner in the welterweight division and is fighting in that weight again this year. Joseph Yannitel, his trainer, believes he is in better shape than last year and says he is a hard worker in the roadwork and training department. Jim Detrick, last year's featherweight champ, will be fighting lightweight this year and Yannitel says he looks very good.

Tries New Field

Dorman Knapp took the flyweight title in 1944 and lost out in the featherweight division last year. Fighting bantam this year, he blends good scientific boxing with slugging.

Forty fighters from out of town have signed to appear in the tournament. Delaware has the largest contingent, sending 13 boys from the Community Athletic club under the direction of John Wilson. Charles Kinsey is bringing 10 Galion High school boys and a group of five is coming from Springfield. Others are: three from Richwood, two from Morral, two from LaRue, two from Carey, two from Bucyrus and one from Shelby.

Twenty-two bouts will be fought Monday night in the first elimination rounds with subsequent sessions on Wednesday and Friday. All bouts are at the armory. Reserve seats are on sale at Markert and Lewis, priced at $1.20, and 85 cent general admission tickets are sold by all members of the Y's Men's Service club, sponsors of the tournament.

Final Meeting Sought

The committee asks all Marion fighters to meet at the "Y" boxing room tonight at 7:30 p. m. for final instructions.

Proceeds from the bouts will be used for civic projects carried on by the Y's men. Only recently the club announced plans for construction of permanent-type shelter houses in city parks

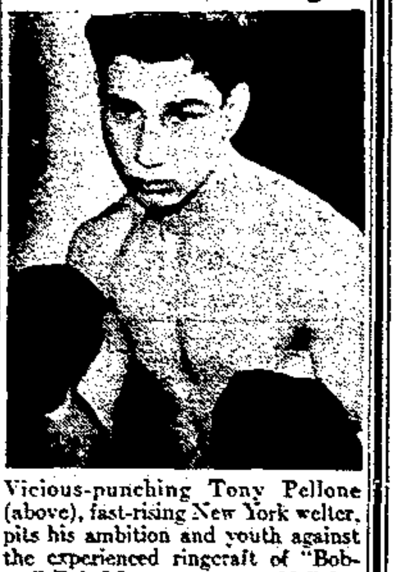
Lightweight Champ on WMRN Tonight



Vicious-punching Tony Pellone (above), fast-rising New York welter, pits his ambition and youth against the experienced ringcraft of "Bobcat" Bob Montgomery, world lightweight champion, at Madison Square Garden tonight.

This lightweight ten-rounder is Montgomery's first Garden start since returning to civilian life. In Montgomery, Pellone meets a foxy, seasoned foe who combines durability with sock power and boxing skill. The "Bobcat" always seems to grow stronger as a fight progresses.

Pellone, however, is fast—on his feet and with his fists. He moves in and out with bewildering speed, mixing an effective left hook with a smashing right uppercut.

Outlook Worries Durocher

Dodgers Still Lack Pitching and Good First Basemen, but Holdouts Are Sore Spot.

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 8—For all their preliminary gyrations, which included for the past month at Sanford, Fla., a sort of three ring circus conducted by that valiant ring master, Professor Branch Rickey, the Brooklyn Dodgers still lack pitching and first-basing of big league caliber.

If they do better than third place in the National league this year, it should call for a congressional investigation.

Leo Durocher says he needs pitchers and a good first baseman and fewer holdouts among his new outfielders. The latter in particular seem to irritate him.

The best pitcher Leo can lay his hands on at the moment is one Hal Gregg, who won 18 and lost 13 last year.

The only reasons the Dodgers finished as high as they did were that their outfield hit well and the opposition was wartime and weak.

Outside Gregg, Durocher names Ed Head and Vic Lombardi from last year's staff as probable starters, and neither was very much. After that, he is forced to talk about several youngsters who are not on the Dodgers roster, and whose names he can spell only with uncertainty.

Coeds To Play Ball, But Fix Own Rules

By The Associated Press

ROANOKE, Va., March 8—Their masculine pride at stake, members of Roanoke college's varsity basketball team have accepted a challenge to play a group of coeds from the school.

A challenge, posted on the college bulletin board, said in part, "Don't refuse this because of fear—we will give you an even break."

But the boys are wondering about that.

They will have to wear boxing gloves, play according to girls' basketball rules, play in a "skirt and blouse" uniform, wearing lipstick and a hair ribbon

WEST BADEN, Ind., March 8—A four year period away from strenuous training for ring warfare ended today for Joe Louis.

The world's heavyweight boxing champion launched a 49-day tuning up program at this village spa in the first phase of his conditioning in preparation for the defense of his title against challenger Billy Conn in New York's Yankee stadium June 19.

The second phase begins May 1 at Pompton Lakes, N. J., when he starts his boxing drills.

Louis, arriving tired with his party of four after a 287 mile drive from Chicago, found the signs of spring everywhere. He appeared eager to get started.

Louis, who will be 32 years old on May 13, weighs 220 pounds, 13 above his fighting weight. He plans to melt off this excess by walking and jogging over the hilly countryside for an hour each morning, engage in other outdoor exercises in the afternoon and eat only two meals daily. He also will play golf and ride horseback. He is shipping two spirited animals here.

His training will be all out-of-doors. There will be no gymnasium work, no boxing. The Brown Bomber will remain here until April 26 and then proceed to Pompton Lakes.

Louis, with his retinue, is quartered in a 38-room, two story white frame hotel which caters to Negroes. It was reopened and freshed up exclusively for him. The hostelry is located a block off the main street. The villagers straggle in groups across the street for a look at the champion.

ABC To Resume Next Week After 3 Years

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 8—The American Bowling Congress, the world series of the tenpin realm, resumes next Thursday in Buffalo's 74th armory, after a three-year wartime lapse.

The ABC called a halt after the 1942 meet in Columbus, Ohio, because of the transportation crisis.

The forthcoming tournament, sixth to be held in Buffalo but the first to be staged in the huge west side drill hall, has established five records before a ball has been rolled. Perhaps the outstanding mark, in the eyes of bowlers heading here from all points of the compass, has been set by the entry fees received—$399,235, exceeding the $380,895 at Columbus in 1942.

Smith Critical of Churchill Speech

Ex-British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's proposal in his speech at Fulton, Mo., of a British-American alliance would mean a third World War, Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion told the house of representatives in Washington yesterday. The United States would carry the greater portion of the load as we did in the conflict which recently halted, he said. Mr. Smith asked the house: "Is Winston Churchill devoting his sojourn in the United States to inveigle this nation into a third World War as he credited himself with having accomplished in respect of World War II? Is President Truman lending a sympathetic ear to Mr. Churchill as did President Roosevelt?

"The problem involved here thrusts itself to the forefront and becomes a vital national issue.

"Churchill's proposal poses a grave question. This should cause our people to do some serious thinking."

STOCKS MAKE LAZY TRY FOR RECOVERY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 8 — The stock market continued to reach for recovery today but without any appreciable display of animation.

The ticker tape loafed at intervals after a fairly active opening. Liquors, motors and specialties led the slow-going advance with gains of fractions to more than two points.

Brokers generally credited the extension of Wednesday's revival largely to technical factors involved in the recent slump and the belief that the list was due for a good comeback.

THIS SUSPENSE IS UNBEARABLE—EVEN IF ANNIE ROONEY WERE NOT MY OWN LITTLE GIRL—
I HAVE FALLEN IN LOVE WITH HER—AND I SIMPLY CANNOT BEAR THE THOUGHT OF LEAVING HER IN THE CLUTCHES OF MRS. MEANY—
MY DEAR, I UNDERSTAND AND SYMPATHIZE WITH YOU—BUT A MISTAKE WOULD BE TRAGIC—YOU MUST BE PATIENT JUST A LITTLE LONGER—
NOW, HONEY, EVEN IF YOU DID HEAR MRS. MEANY TALK ABOUT YOUR MOTHER, YOU MUST PRETEND YOU WERE MISTAKEN—MAYBE SOME DAY—

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"MARY?" I echoed blankly "How—why—"

Then I pulled myself together.

"Forgive me, Olga," I said. "I am not usually so ill-bred. Please go on with what you wish to tell me."

"You couldn't be ill-bred if you toiled laboriously at it for a year," she said, adding with a wan little smile: "See how American I am getting?"

"Indeed you are," I said heartily, even though I was repressing a smile at her elaborate interpretation of "American expressions."

"But I must tell you why I wish you to put Mary on her guard," she said. "I want her to know exactly what is going to happen at the luncheon, so she will not be surprised, and will be able to plan her actions in advance with especial reference to Noel."

I was so completely bewildered by now that I put a question which I was sure my husband would dub "completely asinine."

"You don't mean that Georges will be there?" I stammered "Surely Father would not have—"

"No, no," she said vehemently. "George will not be there. I could almost hope he never would be there again, only my poor girl is so in love with him. But his ring will be at the luncheon, very much in evidence."

Babbling An Echo

"His ring?" I found myself babbling an echo of her words again.

She looked at me keenly.

"I think I will sit down for a few seconds," she said, taking the nearest chair, "and you must be seated, too. I am afraid I am making you uneasy."

I took the chair opposite her, and got myself in hand again.

"You are not making me uneasy, Olga," I said, "but you are amazing me. Please go on. I promise not to interrupt again."

She drew a deep breath, and put her finger tips together in a gesture curiously like my father's when he is preparing to make an explanation which he finds difficult.

"Olina told you, I know, that Georges had asked her to marry him when he returns,—or rather, I am afraid, if he returns."

Olina Told Madge

I nodded.

"Yes, she told me that," I said "Does Mary know?"

The question was clipped, as if she had cut it clean with sharp scissors.

"Yes. I told Mary the bare fact of the betrothal," I said, stretching the truth out of its very warp and woof. But there was no use wounding Olga by telling her some of the things her daughter had told me. If, as Olina had said, she could not confide them to her mother.

And, of course, there were some things in that memorable conversation with the unhappy former princess of Trees, which I never could repeat to any one, confidences which had been meant for my ear alone

"I am glad of that," she said "It will make your task easier."

She paused, and I mentally put my hands up to my neck and screwed my whirling head on again.

A Family Heirloom

"You see," she began again, "Georges gave Olina a betrothal ring, an heirloom in his family, one that his father gave to his mother. He did not give that ring to Mary, in that old betrothal of theirs, Olina says."

"I do not remember," I said, conscious that Olga's keen eyes were reading my hesitation. "It was so long ago"

"I am not so sure that he did not," she said surprisingly. "He is a most accomplished liar, Georges, and of course he did not know that Olina meant to announce her betrothal and exhibit the ring at a dinner party with Mary present.

I straightened in my chair, alert and wide-awake at last.

"You mean," I said, "that Olina is going to do that today?"

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Disease Favored by Winter

Infantile paralysis or poliomyelitis is one of the few diseases which is more common during the warmer weather than the cold months. A condition with symptoms like those of poliomyelitis, known as infectious polyneuritis, is favored by cold weather.

In the early stages, infectious polyneuritis can be told from poliomyelitis by the fact that it causes disturbances of sensation. It starts as a vague generalized aching, often following an infection of the nose or throat. There may be pain in the back and legs together with restlessness. Burning and nagging pains in the leg muscle, tenderness and loss of sensation in the hands and lower legs, are often present.

Headache may also be one of the symptoms noted. In very severe cases, mental disturbances may occur. As the condition progresses, paralysis of the legs develops. The muscles become weak and flabby. The weakness spreads from the legs and may involve the muscles of the trunk and arms. In the great majority of instances, paralysis of the face muscles is noted.

In making a diagnosis of infectious polyneuritis, examination of the spinal fluid is helpful. The amount of protein in the fluid is increased. This increase in the protein begins when the paralysis starts. At the same time the number of cells in the spinal fluid remains unchanged.

In regard to the treatment of infectious polyneuritis, Dr. Charles D. Aring of Cincinnati advises that the patient be given plenty of food together with injections into a muscle of liver extract once or twice a week. Some potassium compound is given daily. Complete rest in bed is essential until the disorder begins to clear up.

If the pulse rate is rapid and the fever low, the patient should continue to be kept in bed since this may indicate some damage to the heart muscle. No pressure on the legs should be permitted. A pillow placed under the knees and a board across the foot of the bed against which the feet may rest are aids to comfort

The physician will prescribe such drugs as are needed to relieve pain. Dr. Aring believes the Kenny hot pack technique is excellent for relieving pain due to infectious polyneuritis but should be used cautiously for elderly patients.

It is important that infectious polyneuritis be recognized when it occurs so that prompt treatment may be carried out. After proper treatment, practically all recover completely.

Mad Pianist Joins Unwitting Audience at Detroit Concert

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, March 8—The Mad pianist of Eloise, whose partial emergence from the limbo of insanity a few days ago drew the acclaim of the music world, appeared publicly for the first time Thursday night in the audience of a Detroit symphony concert.

The man, about 45, dressed inconspicuously in a blue suit, sat unnoticed throughout a performance which drew 4,000 persons to the Masonic temple. Beside him was Dr. Ira Altshuler, local psychiatric pioneer, and attendants from Wayne county general hospital at Eloise.

At the conclusion of a program of music by Mozart, Debussy and Wagner, the insane musician arose, applauded vigorously and turned to Dr. Altshuler:

"It was a very fine concert," he said simply and clearly.

Dr. Altshuler said this was the first coherent sentence the unnamed genius has spoken since he entered the mental institution nine years ago after a promising musical career was interrupted by his affliction.

"On the way home in the car with me he began to mumble again and lapsed into the attitude to which we are accustomed. We can not say definitely that he will ever be well again. But he has shown improvement and we have the right to be optimistic."

The musician, known to his doctors and attendants at the hospital as "Maestro X," gave a weird and beautiful concert in Detroit Feb. 24 before 300 musicians attending a convention here.

Their tribute to his unusual skill ranged from the accolade of "genius" to a description of his playing as "exquisitely sad."

The man suffers from a form of negativism, his doctors said, the result of a split personality which has caused him to withdraw from contact with the world.

The pianist will play selections from Liszt, Mozart and Chopin on a nationwide radio program Sunday night from the hospital, Dr. Altshuler said.

He will be heard on "We the People," over the Columbia Broadcasting System at 10:30 p. m. (EST), the doctor said.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Two More Pickets Get Jail Sentences

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 8—Two more pickets at the strikebound Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant here were sentenced today to 60 days in jail on an assault and battery charge which accused them of beating Frank Schneider as he attempted to return to work.

Municipal Judge Wayne Fogle imposed the sentence on Arthur Wilburn and M. E. George, both of Columbus, then told them:

"I want you men to understand we're not going to tolerate such actions."

Two other pickets, brought before the judge on a charge of beating a wounded war veteran as he tried to enter the plant, were given a like sentence yesterday. They announced they would appeal.

Burns Are Fatal To Mother, Two Children

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., March 8—Mrs. Thelma Zarvis, 22, whose two small children perished in a fire at their home, died of burns today in Mercy hospital, where her husband, James, also 22, was reported in "fair" condition with injuries received in attempting to help his family.

Mrs. Zarvis and the children—Richard, 2, and Donna Lee, one—were sprayed with flames yesterday as the mother threw some kerosene into a coal stove to kindle a fire in the bedroom of the family's two-room house, one mile south of Malvern, Carroll county, Zarvis told Malvern firemen.

Meetings Scheduled at Holiness Church

He did missionary work in Africa at one time, and extensive evangelistic work in Newfoundland, Canada and in this country. His messages will reflect his experiences in "fearless old-time gospel preaching that in many ways differs from the usual evangelist." Services will be each night at 7:45 with special music and singing by local people, Rev. Albert M. Hood, pastor, announced.

You're ready to start spring work.. IS YOUR TRACTOR?

Who knows what kind of a Spring we will have? But no matter what kind it turns out to be, you can take advantage of every good day if your tractor is in condition. With good prices for farm products, a few dollars spent now for spark plugs, a spare fan belt, oil filters, and perhaps a battery recharge, may pay tremendous dividends before fall arrives.

wn of Ohio Keeps Silent Taking Job As G.O.P. Head

By EARL BERKLEY

AP Special Washington Service

TON, March 8—With indications mounting that the national chairman will come from congress, Ohio's appears as likely as anyone to be the choice would accept, if offered the job is something else. publisher, a member of the powerful house rules saying yes or no proponents of the his choice on

1 The new chairman should come from the house because his initial undertaking will be to win seats from the Democrats in this year's congressional elections

2. The party should look for a leader from the middlewest where it has gained considerable strength in recent years.

Speculation about Brown involves a surmise that the new chairman should not be identified too closely with presidential candidates The Ohioan is a friend of former Governor Bricker and Senator Robert T. Taft, both mentioned for the presidential nomination

Brown's backers insist, however, that the new party leader's big job will be to push the congressional campaigns and that interference by any presidential prospect would do the latter more harm than good

Rep Al Weichel of Sandusky has what he is sure is good news for hundreds of pigeon fanciers in Ohio—that 17,000 war-trained homing pigeons declared surplus by the Army will be given away or destroyed by the War Assets Corp

Throughout Ohio and elsewhere in the country," Weichel said, "thousands of boys and older people are interested in raising and training homing pigeons especially youngsters who do not have money to buy racing stock

"The government is offering to give away these thousands of war trained pigeons"

Congressmen get all manner of requests from constituents but Weichel says he has the prize A Sandusky man requested a copy of "everything that was said" during the recent senate filibuster against legislation to establish a permanent fair employment practices committee

"We need more women in government"

CHURCHES CALL FOR RATIONING OF FOOD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 8—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America yesterday asked Americans everywhere to "practice voluntary rationing" of foods needed to help prevent starvation in war-torn Europe and Asia

A general session of the council's special post-war policy meeting adopted a report calling for less use of wheat products like flour and macaroni fats and oils, rice dried beans, peas, or lentils canned meat, poultry and fish canned milk, and heavy cream and ice cream

More use of potatoes oats and other non-wheat cereals fresh vegetables fruits, meat poultry, fish and eggs, was urged, along with butter when it becomes available to free margarine for export

The report also included a Lenten appeal asking Christians to contribute to their denominational postwar funds above any regular gifts they plan to make either the equivalent of one meal a week or the saving of some customary expenditure, or something from their savings account which would constitute a truly sacrificial gift"

Another report urged the 25 Protestant denominations making up the council to "take evangelism out of the realm of unreality and seek new members and find new ways of spreading the gospel

Bishop J Ralph Magee of Chicago, director of the Methodist Crusade for Christ immediately telegraphed President Truman that the 41 000 Methodist churches would start a drive for a million new members by sending two-man teams to the homes of friends and neighbors during the week of March 24

PUPILS' OPA LETTERS DRAW FIRE OF TAFT

By The Associated Press

WARREN O, March 8 — Senator Robert A Taft's letter about his OPA mail from students in a Harding high school civics class—they requested Taft to uphold the OPA—drew this observation today from Superintendent of Schools H B Turner

"Pupils wishing to write government officials may do so only as an individual and not as part of a school project undertaken in a partisan spirit under direction of a teacher This is not a new rule It always has existed"

From Julia Czibula a senior at the school came this comment

"I think we are old enough now that our opinions should be important to congressmen As seniors in high school we have the right to notify and outline our position to congressmen"

Taft Writes Principal

The Ohio Republican senator wrote Milton E Mollenkopf principal at the high school, that he had received a series of students letters asking his support of OPA

Apparently these letters are prepared as a part of a class exercise said Taft's letter, "and have for the most part been marked by the teacher with an E"

It appeared said his letter to the principal, that "only one side had been presented to the students and I question whether public school ought to be used as a vehicle of propaganda in this way"

After an inquiry Superintendent Turner said the students' letters had been written as an exercise in a "problems of democracy" class taught by Albert Marowitz

Teacher Silent

The teacher made no comment. Pupils reported they were assigned to write letters on either side of the question of continuing price control to Senator James Huffman, Democrat or Taft or Congressman Michael Kirwan Democrat of Youngstown, O, Chester Bowles, then OPA administrator

Superintendent Turner reported that Warren business men had complained some high school students had acted as volunteer checkers for the OPA on store price

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...best food we ever used"

Paul Evans, owner of Lane's End Cocker Spaniels, Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "I have been using Gro-Pup for some time. It's the best food we have ever used. My dogs eat better, maintain better condition and coat. In short, Gro-Pup has been wholly satisfactory."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

Machinery Priorities Good for 15 Days

Veterans who obtain certificates of priority from the AAA county committee for purchasing farm machinery must have them accepted by a dealer within 15 days, according to a statement from Frank G. Montgomery, county AAA chairman. A certificate issued before Feb. 20 must be filed with a dealer within 30 days.

This is a new ruling under the order giving priority to veterans who can show need for and an inability to obtain farm machinery, the AAA chairman said.

Also new is a provision that a certificate expires 60 days after issuance even though it has been accepted by the dealer for future delivery of machinery, unless renewed by the county committee in response to a written request.

Programs on the Air

Production of post war home radio receivers, although finally on the upgrade, still lags behind the output of pre-Pearl Harbor days, the Radio Manufacturers Association reports. Latest available figures, those for January, estimate the month's output at 500,000 units, or approximately 45 per cent under the pre-war monthly rate.

According to the civilian production administration, which made the compilation, "Production continues to be hampered by an insufficient quantity of cabinets" and such other components as loudspeakers.

The RMA adds that when the industry gets going full blast it should be able to turn out considerably more than a million receivers a month due to wartime plant expansion. As a result, this is expected to go far toward easing any pent up demand, estimated at upwards of 20,000,000 sets, before the year is out. At present the retail market still is spotty, with receivers available in some instances only on an order basis.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

BRIDES AND SERVICEMEN

Editor of The Star: This situation is disgusting to me: all these brides coming to this country every week when thousands of our servicemen are waiting transportation home. These brides can ride on most any ship, chartered planes, special trains, etc. The paper and radio reporters tell about how long it's been since these brides have last seen their GI husbands; it doesn't seem to matter how long it's been since we wives at home have seen ours. If these soldiers needed those girls so badly why couldn't it have been them that remained over there?

Furthermore, talk of saving government money — these soldiers, many of them, no longer necessary over there—but just count up what it costs to keep them there and their dependents here. Another thing, of all the unnecessary help the government keeps; actually some don't earn an hour's pay a day; nothing for them to do, but still they remain on the pay roll. And also the wastefulness of government property; if that's the best use of bonds it's useless to buy them.

And, when the Army set up its point system for discharge, why do they discharge some with less points and keep others with more when not classified as essential—and after all—no man is so essential that another can't take his place.

When our servicemen get home, what kind of a state of affairs do they find? No place to live, very few decent jobs available that aren't threatened with strikes, can't buy necessities, nor a car or any machinery—no priority. The ones who stayed home either have everything or an inside track on how to get what they want.

What do most people back here care for the boys who spent years overseas or the ones who won't come back? That was their duty! Yes, it would have been OK if every ablebodied man of draft age had gone—but did they? No! And why not? How laws do change or maybe interpreted!

I sure hope if these servicemen ever all get home they show these lawmakers a thing or two. The next time they get in a fight with another country let them fight it out instead of using the best of our young men. I'll wager the war won't last so long.

FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1946

Faith, Hope, Charity, Etc.

THERE WILL be universal and enthusiastic agreement with President Truman's argument to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ that if more religion were applied to world problems there wouldn't be so many hard ones

But there will be prompt and slightly amused dissent to Mr. Truman's thesis that his administration is being hamstrung by the failure of American citizens to show a more religious attitude For example, it is unlikely that any amount of religion would change the toughness or all-around unpleasantness of the Pauley problem.

To get down to problems Mr. Truman mentioned by name, the one likeliest to yield to applied religion is the fair employment practices issue But he failed to point out that vastly more than religion is behind inclusion of that issue in his legislative program, though as a politician he knows full well the brotherhood of man in this case is only a talking point

It may be reverently doubted, also, that those who are skeptical about the eternal sanctity of OPA, socialized medicine, subsidized federal housing and a helter-skelter widening of social security tax collections to finance a profligate government are placing themselves outside the religious pale It even may be doubted that they are motivated only by greed.

Mr. Truman, no doubt with the best of intentions, got the Sermon on the Mount and the headaches of the falling-apart political coalition he is trying to patch together all mixed up The blend he came out with is reminiscent of the old New Deal mixture . . . with something about it being easier for a rich man to get into heaven than a fellow who doesn't stay on the party line.

Thicker Than Water

WINSTON Churchill's proposal for an Anglo-American alliance is, in many respects, like suggesting that old friends should put their friendship in writing.

Making due allowances for the hatred and contempt which some Americans and Britons share for each other, the fact is the two nations have so much in common that a formal alliance would be an anticlimax.

Those who feel this way about it have powerful evidence in the record of Anglo-American cooperation before and during the war So far as anyone knows officially, there was no written agreement At a time when written agreements were chiefly useful for deceit, the United States and Great Britain enjoyed the most harmonious relations on record

Great Britain has a 20-year treaty of collaboration and mutual assistance with Russia, but it is obvious that neither Mr. Churchill nor any other informed Briton feels this is a guarantee of collaboration or mutual assistance When war broke out in 1939, with Russia on Germany's side, every conceivable contingency had been sewed up in advance by treaties When the war was over in 1945, every treaty had been violated. The only cooperation of importance between nations was achieved by recognition of mutual interests, not by formal agreements

The Axis, an elaborate monstrosity of treaty-signing, was a farce. Among the Allies, the Atlantic Charter was to be observed chiefly in the breach. The nearest approach to genuine collaboration was between the only great powers that honored the same principles—the United States and Great Britain. Perhaps Mr Churchill is right and there should be an alliance, but under the circumstances it could accomplish nothing that hasn't been accomplished without it

Care and Feeding of Congressmen

THE HOWL about congressmen feathering their nests that will follow discovery of proposals to raise congressional salaries and provide pensions for retiring legislators is a sign of something missing in the machinery of government

There is no provision for taking objective action to improve the condition of the most vital part of representative democracy. Every move congressmen make that involves their own welfare stimulates ridicule. It exposes them to the sneers and sniffs of not only the thoughtless, who know no better, but to the shrewdly calculated jibes of those who are working tirelessly to undermine the prestige of the legislative function. The latter know that if they can destroy public confidence in congress, the rest will be easy. They will have the authoritarian police state they want.

Under any conceivable standard, men and women competent to serve in congress are worth more than the $10,000 they are getting—a salary whose residue is peanuts when the unusual expenses of congressional service are subtracted Under any conceivable standard, congressmen are entitled to the benefits of a reasonable schedule of retirement pay. There is no way to short-circuit the wisecracks that are destined to come when the hooters and jibers get busy, but the game is worth the candle. Until there is a citizens' committee authorized to work outside congress to deal with measures for the improvement of that branch, congressmen themselves will have to do it.

News Behind the News

Cabinet Has Byrnes on Verbal Firing Line.

WASHINGTON, March 8—The story is told—I do not know how truly—that State Secretary Byrnes faced a verbal firing squad in the cabinet before his recent firming of international policy against encroachments by Russia around the world.

In the inner group, it is related that President Truman allowed his cabinet advisers to express plainly to Byrnes their dissatisfaction at the total lack of results from his position as a diplomatic neutral Indeed, a majority is said to have pointed out to him that to be a neutral in conflicts between democracy and totalitarianism is to be ineffective.

Some of Mr Byrnes' friends are trying to stamp out the story, contending he wrote one or two of his firming notes before the date of the meeting at which the execution of appeasement, if not of Mr. Byrnes, took place.

Truman Lends Support

I am inclined to believe the story because Mr. Truman stepped out conspicuously on the same platform from which the Churchill address, urging an Anglo-American alliance, was presented. Mr. Truman did not commit himself, except by his presence, but when a Missouri university grants an honorary degree to anyone, you may be sure Mr. Truman arranged the affair. Indeed, he is supposed to have read the address in advance. You may recall Mr. Churchill paid a final visit to Washington a week or more before they went out together for the historic occasion.

The union of these two men for the occasion, however, should not be interpreted as a definite forecast that all Mr. Churchill wanted will come to pass, immediately or even soon. Indeed, common interpretation around the country, judging by the comment and reaction, was that Mr. Churchill was inspired by a desire to give a boost to the proposed loan-gift of more than 4 billion dollars to the British government. No doubt this is true, but the deeper meaning of his words should not be lost in such an obvious deduction.

The important thing is he spoke out against Russia. He removed the diplomatic velvet from his tongue and talked of realities He dropped pretense and said what he thought

Change in Custom

Such plain words have not been much in order around here lately. The Byrnes policy had been founded on other factors than plain speaking, to say the least. I think it is fair to say the advocates of the Byrnes school of tactics largely confined to the left-wing groups) were timid in their fear to face truth.

The mere facing of it in these new diplomatic ventures therefore represents progress. The confused world cannot find stability and peace in diplomatic trickery, appeasements spoken words without meaning, written and sworn words not to be carried into effect or any of these devices—all lacking confidence, security and good faith necessary to sound understanding.

Agreement must be built upon these ingredients as a foundation, or they are meaningless and dangerous To fear that war will come is in itself a position of weakness. It will come either way, if it is to come, because it can come only through action of our adversaries If we face the facts, we will know what the score is and we will be prepared. If we dodge the issue and retreat from position to position in the face of mere diplomatic pressures, and delude ourselves into believing surrender is peace, our fate is in the hands of our adversaries. These events, both on the inside and out, represent a first essential step from confusion toward peace.

Spanish Taught on Good Neighbor Basis

Latin-American Style Wins Over Castilian.

By BEN F. MEYER
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Universities in the United States appear to have begun on a larger scale the teaching of Spanish as spoken in Latin America rather than as pronounced in Spain—reflecting a greater Pan-American consciousness

Spaniards pronounce the letter "c" before certain vowels with a "th" sound, as in the word "thin" In Latin America, this "th" sound takes on the pronunciation of an "s"

On a recent trip through the United States with President Juan Antonio Rios of Chile, this correspondent was told by Spanish professors in several universities that more emphasis was being given nowadays to teaching Spanish the Latin American way

The good professors, however have this problem no two countries in the Americas speak Spanish alike. Sometimes words used in Mexico are unknown in Peru, and expressions of every-day usage in Chile are not heard in Argentina. The Mexicans carefully pronounce every letter of a word, while some of the genial Cubans frequently overlook entirely the letter "s" except at the beginning of a word

Latin Americans do not attach great importance to whether North Americans speak with a Castilian or Latin-American accent, though it is not easy for them to understand why many United States schools cling to the pronunciation of Spain They do attach importance, however, to the idea that foreigners in Latin America should learn Spanish. They are universally kind in helping anyone learn.

Spanish is spoken in all South American republics except Brazil, where the language is Portuguese. Indian dialects prevail in outlying areas of Mexico, Bolivia, Paraguay, Peru and some other countries

In Haiti, French is the language of the educated In country districts, one often hears a strange mixture of, apparently, French, Spanish, Latin and U. S. Marine—the Marines were there years ago.

Not even the foods of Latin America keep the same names from country to country. Mexico's "chili" pepper is Chile's "aji," and thus Chileans in their speech are saved from confusing country and condiment. Beans are "frijoles" in Mexico but "porrotos" in Chile. The Chilean word is a telescoping of "por roto," which means, "for a poor farm hand."

Argentine Spanish shows a strong European, particularly an Italian, influence

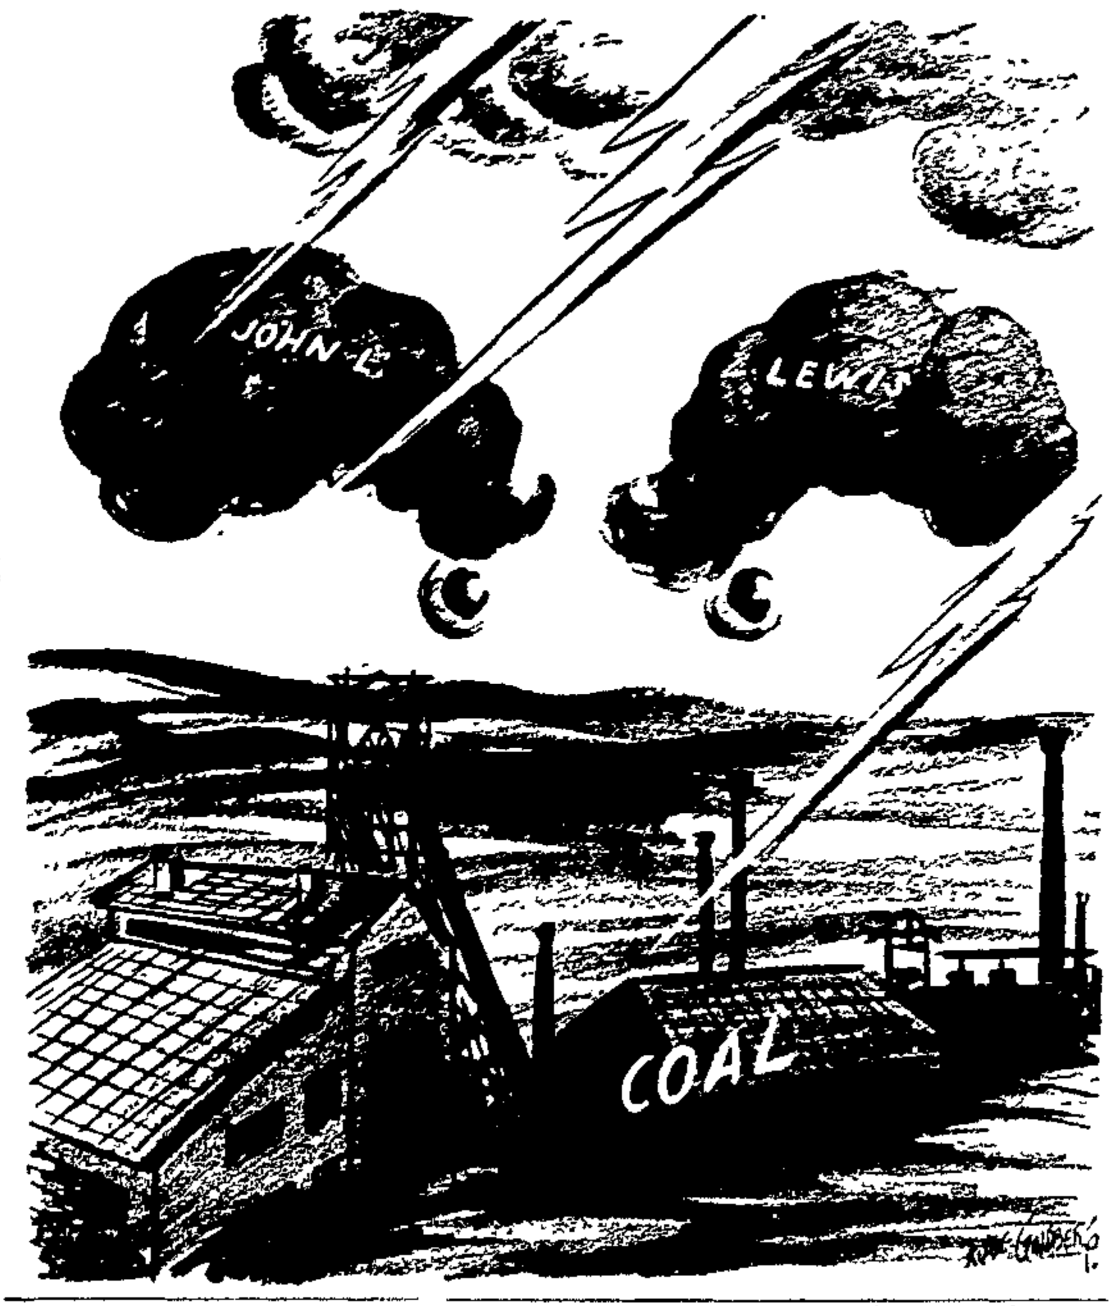
FRESH CLOUDS IN THE SKY



Plenty of Food To Share

U. S. Expected To Have Big Supply After Helping Others.

By JACK STINNETT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—The drive for a voluntary belt-tightening under the direction of former President Herbert Hoover, in order that famines in Europe and Asia might be averted, probably will still find the United States with the fullest market basket in history.

The "probably" is there because a bad growing season might cut into present estimates of 1946 crops But if all turns out as the department of agriculture expects, we can voluntarily reduce our diets and still eat better than we have in any previous year

Except for sugar, eggs and wheat, there will be more of virtually everything than there was in 1945—and except for sugar alone—far more than in the 1935-39 pre-war years

The sugar shortage, along with the shortages in fats and oils, is a world shortage that the United States can't do much about relieving

Promise by President

The President has promised 370,000 000 pounds of fats and vegetables oils to the stricken nations This may cut a bit into civilian diets here, but that is only a little more than 5 per cent of the 6 7 billion pounds forecast for this year Butter, classed as a fat by the department of agriculture, probably won't be plentiful on the table this year

The egg situation is far from anything to worry about Civilians will have an average of 365 eggs apiece this year. While they consumed an average of 390 apiece last year, they only got away with 298 each in the 1935-39 period.

While it is estimated that there will be four pounds of flour less per person this year than last, it still will amount to 157 pounds, four more than was consumed in the five-year base prewar period.

It is estimated that there will be 10 pounds more per person of fresh fruits than the 138 pounds of prewar days; nine pounds more of dairy products than the 801 pounds; 15 pounds more of processed fruits and vegetables than the 67 pounds of 1935-39

More Meat Per Person

The meat situation will be much better than last year The department estimated that there would be 150 pounds of red meats and 29 pounds of poultry meats available for every man, woman and child in the country this year That compares with 132 pounds of the former and 20 of the latter last year and 126 and 21 pounds respectively in the base period

Starting from this level, Hoover and his associates shouldn't have such a hard time convincing the nation that 'our national self-respect and duties as human beings' (as President Truman put it) demand that we voluntarily sacrifice a little from our groaning tables to relieve what appears to be the worst food crisis in the history of Europe and Asia

Once the drive gets under way and the tragic condition of starving millions brought home to the American people, it's almost certain they will rise to the occasion They always have—even when they have had far less than now

Daily Bible Thought

We often derive more happiness from hope than from the realization itself So a religion filled with boundless eternal hope is what we should desire. Romans 15 13 "Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope."

Detroit Backs Garage Plan

DETROIT—Underground parking as a solution to modern traffic congestion has extended to this city with plans for a subterranean garage which will be constructed and financed at no cost to the city's taxpayers.

Now in the contract stage, the project is reported to be based upon a sale of revenue bonds, which will be retired through garage and parking fees. Originally the project, reports said, was to be attempted on a non-profit basis.

Detroit is one of several large American cities now considering this solution to the standing car as a major source of congestion St Louis likewise has studied plans for such a project, although latest reports had not brought any definite step in this direction. San Francisco pioneered the underground plan with its Union Square garage—recently termed a complete business success by city sponsors

Pasteurizing machines were introduced in 1895.

Homes Poured to Order

IF we see anything approaching us resembling a huge concrete pourer accompanied by apparatus out of a Superman cartoon we are going to start shooting. It could be one of the outfits that now pours a man a home while he waits

We don't want a bungalow that is squeezed out of a supertube

It seems that the machinery for producing such a home has been perfected and is already on the roads pouring home, sweet home for people who want to get a parlor, bedroom and bath while they're hot

The apparatus consists of a giant house-form or mould which is carted to a homesite Then the cement mixer draws up and pours. After twenty-four hours a hydraulic derrick arm lifts off the form and . presto' . there stands, the home complete if not beautiful

All you have to do is chisel off the rough edges'

A man named LeTourneau has invented the house-pourer and has been pouring 'em in Longview, Texas and Vicksburg, Mass. Huge crowds gathered in each place to watch a machine lay a house just as a hen lays an egg

All that remains to be done is to make the machine cackle at the end of the performance

Home, to revise an old saying, is where the concrete mixer is

How simple' You buy a lot, phone the Day-A-Bungalow office and say you would like a four-room home right away The man asks if you can wait a couple of hours. You say it's a rush order. Presently the apparatus trundles up and a man hops out with the query "Where would you like this residence poured?"

There are a couple of toots, a grinding noise and your domicile is born And you can have .

* * *

We are just old fashioned enough to want no part of a bathroom whose defects have to be tracked back to a cement mixer.

Knock on Wood

By Truman Twill

When this country was being pried loose from the Indians, the wood came with it There was a lot of it because the Indians didn't know enough to chop down the trees so they could have reforestation projects

They figured it was better to leave things the way they were and did not even know enough to invent forest fires by dumping the ashes from their peace pipes into piles of dry leaves. The Indians were not civilized.

In fact, they deserved to be thrown out for not taking advantage of the opportunity to make a mess of the country It was high time that the immigrants showed them how it was done

The invaders really made things hum. Where trees were concerned, they chopped them down and burned up what they couldn't cut up They went through the forest primeval like moths in a pair of white serge pants. It was a very progressive spectacle.

They even put their heads together and invented General Grant architecture to waste more wood on houses so ugly there would be nothing to do but tear them down so the New Deal could get back of housing projects to provide a garage apiece for American families that formerly thought a garage was for the two cars promised them by Herbert Hoover.

And whenever war came, which was often the wooden heads who were in charge of making the Indians ashamed of themselves strewed American wood over the world like an explosion in a lath factory "Shucks, we can always grow more wood," explained the brain boys in charge

Well, boys, start growing. Here's a customer who just wants enough wood to build screen frames for a side porch. It is a great comfort to think of a forest ranger standing guard over a sapling that is going to grow up and do the job—and the ranger's son and the ranger's grandson

Generations of rangers will look after that tree, until one day it is ready to be cut down provided the cutter-downers aren't on strike or the OPA (still enjoying a temporary stay of execution) inclined to add up two and [illegible] to make three when figuring lumber prices

Other men will haul it away to the mill where it will be cut and shipped to the great-great-grandsons of Truman Twill, who was a frustrated fuddy-duddy who lived circa 1946 According to family legend, the old man stripped his gears brooding over a country that was practically all trees but had been eaten up so much by lintheads and crooks that in his day a fellow wanting a few sticks to build some screens had to suspend the project indefinitely while master minds in Washington crooned to keep his [illegible] on because they had tougher things to figure out than his little problems with wood.

valuable service of the program was the surgical dressings center where hundreds of women gave hours on end to the rolling of bandages for use in caring for the injured of the armed forces.

Both services received the whole-hearted support of the citizens of the city and county.

These and other wartime services, and the services accorded men in the armed forces and civilians throughout the nation and world, are made possible through the generosity of civilians who contribute to the annual Red Cross campaign fund. This year Marion county's quota of the one hundred million national fund is $38,300. Volunteer workers are now making solicitations for the 1946 campaign to carry on the work.

Former Magician Finds Better Use for Rabbit in Hat

REV. MARTIN C. ELZ

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Rev. Martin C. Elz extracts rabbits from a hat and makes cards disappear to teach Bible truths to his Sunday school pupils.

The setting for his performances is the Oakgrove Avenue Community church with an interdenominational congregation which has doubled its attendance and become debt-free during his two years there as pastor.

A former professional magician, Elz often opens the lesson by "transforming" an ordinary necklace into a pearly cross or causing a table to rise in mid-air.

The clergyman, who formerly worked with the Metropolitan Inner Mission society in New York City's "Hell's Kitchen," says he is a "great believer in visual education" and that he uses feats of magic both to illustrate Bible truths and serve as an "attention-getter."

They were attired in identical gowns of white taffeta and wore red flowers in their hair. Sondra Forsythe, flower girl, wore a white satin dress and Garry Davis, nephew of the bridegroom, as ring bearer, wore a dark blue sailor suit.

Richard Grace served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Robert Dripps and Joe Andrews.

An illuminated cross of white gladioli, palms, and white tapes in branched candelabra, decorated the altar. Preceding the ceremony a program of music was played on the vibra harp and chimes by Mrs. Waldron Phelps. Mrs. Mary Ellen White sang "Till the End of Time," and a trio composed of Mrs. White, Mrs. Beulah Jones and Miss Mildred Ellington, sang "Indian Love Call" and a medley of "Always" and "Whisper That You Love Me." Howard Orr sang "I Love You Truly" and also "Lead and Keep Me" accompanied by the trio. At the close of the ceremony, the trio sang "I'll Go With You All the Way."

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the home.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will return to Marion for a time. Yeoman Wood will then report back to the University of Utah at Salt Lake City where he is stationed. Mrs. Wood, who is employed on the faculty at Kirkpatrick High school, will remain here until the close of the school term when she will join her husband there.

Recorder's Office Fees Show Increase Here

Fees collected in the county recorder's office for the month of February amounted to $783 70, the records show. This amount tops the collections for January when the fees amounted to $707 30.

These amounts, which represent only the business pertaining to real estate and chattel mortgages indicates the increasing amount of business now being done in this office, and exceeds that of many previous years

In addition to the regular business connected with the office, the work has been greatly increased since V-J day with the recording and filling out of certified copies of service records for discharged service men and women, according to Mrs Grace Zachman, recorder. The work of recording veterans' service records and issuing certified copies is done free of charge, and until this is completed will necessitate some delay in the regular work of the office, Mrs. Zachman explained

New Building To Be Erected Here for Kaiser-Frazer Agency

J. Paul Lawther of 297 Bellefontaine avenue announced today plans to open an agency for Kaiser-Frazer automobiles in a new building to be located at 438 and 440 East Center street.

Materials for the building already have arrived and are on the lot and construction is expected to start soon. The building will be erected on the property of H. Malo of 567 East Center street. A building permit was issued to Mr. Malo for the estimated $10,000 construction job.

60-Foot Frontage

The proposed structure, with 60-foot frontage and 72-foot depth, will be modern throughout. Double show windows will be built into the brick front. A 100-foot used car sales lot will be located at the rear of the building and a 25 by 60 foot concrete apron in the front. The building will stand about 25 feet back from the street, in line with other buildings on East Center street.

Mr. Lawther said he expects his first car, a Frazer four-door sedan, to be in by the first of May and by the end of May to be making deliveries.

Service for all makes of automobiles is being planned. Equipment for such service is now being purchased.

Served in Army

Before entering the army as a captain in July, 1942, Mr. Lawther operated the Oldsmobile agency in Marion. He had a varied and active army career. He organized his own ordnance company, the 258th, trained with the company for nine months and later was transferred to a battalion including nine ordnance companies which he took through maneuvers in Tennessee in 1943. He was sent overseas in January, 1944, as commander of an ordnance battalion station at Fort Ruger outside Honolulu. When the 24th Corps was activated to make the initial Philippine landing, he became assistant ordnance officer of the corps. The corps consisted of four divisions, the 7th, 77th, 81st and 96th.

The 24th Corps made initial landings at Leyte and Okinawa and later went to Korea as the occupation force there. Mr. Lawther arrived home in December last year and was released from the service in February as a lieutenant-colonel.

GEORGE W. BALLES JR.

SCHOOL HEAD, WIFE GUILTY IN SCANDAL

By The Associated Press

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 8—The headmaster of a private co-educational military school and his 37-year-old wife, accused of indecencies by a score of their teen-age girl and boy pupils, were found guilty of 15 morals charges.

George W. Balles Jr., founder of the Warminster academy at nearby Three Tuns, was convicted yesterday by a jury of 10 women and two men on 10 counts, including charges of statutory rape, disrupting public morals, contributing to the delinquency of minors and adultery.

His wife, Laura, a registered nurse and mother of a five-year-old girl, was convicted on five counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors, aiding and abetting statutory rape, corrupting public morals and assault.

Both had denied the charges on the witness stand, calling the children who accused them "liars."

"They can't do this to me," Mrs. Balles screamed in Montgomery county courtroom after the verdict was announced. "I am not guilty."

Judge Harold G. Knight announced he would delay sentencing until March 15 to give defense attorneys ample time to file motions for a new trial.

Balles, specifically accused by two girls—one 11, the other 14—of raping them, faces a maximum jail term of 46 years and a fine of $19,500. His wife is liable to 21 years and a $10,000 fine

CHURCHILL ASKS FOR U. S.-BRITISH UNITY

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va., March 8—Winston Churchill again called upon the people of his homeland and of the United States today to stand together "in defense of those causes we hold dear."

Here in the birthplace of a country which rebelled against England's rule, the war time British prime minister told a joint session of the Virginia legislature that "above all, among the English-speaking peoples, there must be the union of hearts based upon convictions and common ideals."

"That," he asserted, "is what I offer. "That is what I want."

Not once in his prepared address did he mention either Russia or Communism. Nor did he refer directly to his appeal in Fulton, Mo., only three days ago, for creation of a strong Anglo-American military alliance.

Yet, indirectly, this was the theme of his address to Virginia's lawmakers. He said:

"We should stand together in malice to none, in greed for nothing, but in defense of those causes which we hold dear not only for our own benefit, but because we believe they mean the honor and the happiness of long generations of men.

New Ohio Prism Sees 30,000 Years Backward

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 8—Now a local observatory can catch 30,000-year-old rainbows from the stars.

Until now, it has been able to study star-rainbows reaching back only as far as 20,000 years.

But with its greater range, it can learn a great deal more about the Milky Way and other galaxies.

That was the significance today behind an announcement of a new prism, installed at the Warner & Swasey observatory at Case School of Applied Science.
